

Hello, During the past year, life has been very pleasant not having the phone ring from 9am - 9pm from solicitors and charities. I like speaking to family and friends and knowing that if one of them is having an emergency I can pick up the receiver and speak directly to them. Usually I would pick up the phone and it would be someone selling siding or someone begging for donations. I have caller ID but some of my friends and family show up outside of area. If I don't answer I could be missing an important and special phone call. I do give to several charities, however I don't like to spend my life trying to get off of the phone with people who are getting paid to make the calls for different organizations. I give on my own terms, and will decide through personal contacts, and mailings who gets my hard earned money!!! Please continue the Telephone Privacy ACT. Thank you for your time!!
